

Course title:	The companies' analysis and valuation
Lecturer (s):	Waldemar Milewicz, PhD
ECTS Credits:	4
Language:	Polish/English
Semester:	Summer
Duration:	1 semester: 15h - lecture; 15h - classes
Content:	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Enterprise, its aims and types of financial decisions.</li> <li>2. The term of financial analysis and its subject.</li> <li>3. Financial statement as a basis of analysis.</li> <li>4. Preliminary analysis of financial statements.</li> <li>5. Ratio analysis.</li> <li>6. Book and market value of enterprise.</li> <li>7. Property methods of enterprise valuation.</li> <li>8. Determination of liquidation and replacement value.</li> <li>9. Comparative methods of enterprise valuation.</li> <li>10. Income methods of enterprise valuation.</li> <li>11. Modern methods of enterprise valuation.</li> <li>12. Value Based Management.</li> </ol>
Textbooks:	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Damodaran A. (2012): Instrument valuation; tools and techniques for determining the value of any asset. John Wiley &amp; Sons, New Jersey.</li> <li>2. Copeland, T., Koller, T. and Murrin, J. (2000) Valuation—Measuring and Managing the Values of Companies. John Wiley Sons, New York.</li> </ol>